REASONS FOR ALLOWANCE

The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance: Claims 1-13 are allowable for the inclusion of the limitations, when taken within the context of all the limitations of the claims, of "each controller having a backplane component electrically connected to the electronic components of the controller, the backplane of each controller a component of only one controller, each chassis of direct access storage devices having a backplane component electrically connected to each of the direct access storage devices by a connector, and the backplane of each channel of direct access storage devices a component of only one channel of direct access storage devices". Claim 14 is allowable for the inclusion of the limitations, when taken within the context of all the limitations of the claims, of "each controller having a backplane component electrically connected to the electronic components of the controller... a separate cable attaching each disk in a channel to a controller, a first port of each disk electrically connected to the first controller, and a second port of each disk electrically connected to the second controller, wherein the backplane of each controller is a component of only one controller, and the backplane of each channel of disks is a component of only one channel of disks." Claim 15 is allowable for the inclusion of the limitations, when taken within the context of all the limitations of the claims, of "a greater than one controller modules, each controller module comprising a controller, a backplane, a power supply, and a cooling system, and a multiplicity of direct access storage device modules, each direct access storage device module comprising a multiplicity of direct access storage devices, a backplane, a power supply, and a cooling system, each controller module electrically connected by a connector module to each direct access storage device module." Claims 16-27 are allowable for the inclusion of the
